Above dates were determined based on the University's refund policy printed below.

Students who withdraw from the University will receive a pro-rated refund of tuition and room charges according to the following schedule:

During the first week of classes	90%
During the second week of classes	80%
During the third week of classes	70%
During the fourth week of classes	60%
During the fifth week of classes	50%
During the sixth week of classes	40%
During the seventh week of classes	30%
After the seventh week of classes	none

The refund for meal plans equals the balance of the unused contract less a 10% administrative fee charged on the unused portion.

If a student is receiving financial aid, University and state funds will be reduced according to the above schedule. However, the schedule is different for federal funds. If a student withdraws on or before the 60% point in time of the semester, a portion of the Title IV federal funds (Pell grant, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Perkins Loan, Stafford Direct Loan, PLUS Loan but not Federal Work-Study) must be returned to the government. The calculation of the return of these funds, which is based on the number of days remaining in the semester, may result in the student owing a balance to the University and/or the federal government.

Students considering withdrawing from all classes should consult with the staff in the Student Accounts and/or Financial Aid Offices if they are concerned about the financial impact of withdrawing.
